SEVEN'S HIS NUMBER — Seven, which is a number frequently mentioned in Bible passages, already has played an important part in the life of Bradley Eugene Schmul, son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Schmul of the Georgetown Rd. The handsome youngster was born Jan. 7, 1957, at 7:07 a.m. and weighed seven pounds, seven ounces. So, today, on his seventh birthday, Jan. 7, he quite naturally had seven candles on his cake. Rev. Schmul is pastor of Pilgrim Church.

Pope Working On Encyclical

Million Welcome Pontiff Home

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI returned to his Vatican desk today after his historic Holy Land pilgrimage and reportedly began work on the first encyclical of his seven-month reign.

The 66-year-old pontiff, who shattered Roman Catholic precedent with his flying pilgrimage to the Bible land, was said to have in mind an entirely new type of encyclical devoted to scientific and technological research.

Informants said experts would help draw up the encyclical, timed apparently to coincide with the 400th anniversary this year of the birth of Galileo Galilei, 16th century Italian astronomer and experimental philosopher.

Galileo was condemned by the Roman Catholic hierarchy for his theories on the solar system. Examined by the Inquisition under threat of torture, he recanted and spent the remainder of his life in partial custody.

Past encyclicals have touched on scientific research only in passing. The last, Pope John XXIII's "Pacem in Terris" (peace on earth) last April, cited the potential benefits of science but it dwelt also on disarmament, world peace and a

Gives First Talk As GOP Candidate

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting his bid for the White House, has called President Johnson a New Dealer who talks like a conservative and faces the liability of programs inherited from President John F. Kennedy.

"I am going to do everything in my power to return the presidency of the United States to the principles which have made this nation great and which can make it greater," the Arizona senator declared Monday night in his first address as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater said he thinks he already has some 500 of the 655 delegate votes it would take to win him top spot on the GOP ticket at the San Francisco convention next July.

Goldwater made his first campaign speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner which originally was scheduled Nov. 23, the day after President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

He got a polite reception in a half-empty hall. Local Republicans explained they admitted only party contributors who bought tickets. They said 879 were sold.

Rail Opponents Headed for Another Crisis

Government Again Attempting to Mediate Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute appears to be headed for another crisis late next month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz conceded as much Monday when he announced that the federal government once again is stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, now nearly five years old.

Wirtz, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds and Chairman Francis A. O'Neil Jr. of the National Mediation Board met today in closed session with the railroads and five operating brotherhoods.

Wirtz met late Monday with railroads representatives, then the unions, and, finally, with both sides. Later he explained that the talks centered on "making the best use of the time that lies ahead of us."

On Feb. 25 a congressional deadline for settlement of the so-called secondary issues — issues not settled last November by compulsory arbitration — runs out and a nationwide rail strike could begin.

The issues involved in the current negotiations include such topics as wage structure, certain road and yard jobs, interdivisional runs, use of self-propelled equipment, night shift differentials, holiday pay and expenses away from home.

Wirtz hedged on any prediction that an agreement could be reached and said he hadn't talked to the negotiators about how much progress they had made in their weeks of bargaining.

There were strong indications earlier from Chicago that progress has been slight.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, told a news conference there would be a nationwide strike unless the railroads' re-elected on their insistence "on what he said would mean "severe wage reductions."

Weaker (?) Sex

Women Come Out Best In Fight With Thieves

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four housewives have struck a blow to advance the belief that members of the fair sex can take care of themselves.

And two thieves are sporting scratches and bruises as a result.

The four women held the two at bay for more than an hour Monday, and two of the women came out far the best in a fight with the young men.

After seeing the two men take three bags of groceries from a car parked in the Brookpark-Broadview shopping center, Mrs. Janet Evanoff, 25, and her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Kardos, entered a bakery. They heard Mrs. Frances Zingale, 30, and her mother, Mrs. Rose Tilrico, 65, shout that their groceries had just been stolen.

"Why, we just saw them take it," yelled Mrs. Evanoff, and the four women spotted the two shabbily dressed young men sitting in a car in the parking lot.

Mrs. Zingale stood in front of the vehicle and told the men they would have to run over her to get out of the parking lot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kardos ran to a store, grabbed an empty grocery cart and jammed it beneath the bumper of the thieves' auto. While the other three women harassed the men, Mrs. Evanoff pulled her car in front of the parked car, blocking any possible escape route.

Mrs. Evanoff and Mrs. Zingale then attacked the thieves. A crowd, including at least half a dozen men, gathered to watch, but no one came to their aid, the women said.

Police arrived 1½ hours after the incident began, but the thieves already had escaped on foot. Groceries, car mats and blankets — apparently stolen — were found in the abandoned car.

Police said they received calls about the incident during a change of shift and while many personnel were needed for school duty.

Mrs. Whinnery told police she was headed north on State Line Rd., near the Pennsylvania-Ohio border when she came to the State Line Rd. crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad, stopped, looked both ways and started across when the train struck her side of the auto.

Will Present State of Union Talk Tomorrow

President Said Scheduling Hike In Domestic Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — A many-pronged attack on poverty through specialized education and other programs may be proposed Wednesday by President Johnson in his first State of the Union message to Congress, which resumes work today.

The Democratic President struggling to keep the new budget below the $100 billion mark, nevertheless was said by Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to be scheduling domestic spending at a higher level than in recent years.

Mansfield said some of this will be channeled into housing, unemployment assistance, educational and other programs aimed at improving living conditions and the level of employment among the nation's poor.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Kirkens of Illinois said in a separate interview it remains to be seen whether Johnson can trim enough out of military outlays to finance such programs without breaking through the President's self-imposed limitation on expenditures.

"I have told the President that if he comes up with a Texas-size budget, he is going to be in trouble in Congress," Kirkens said. "On the other hand, if he cuts military expenditures to the point where Congress thinks national security is threatened, some of this money may be restored."

The second session of the 88th Congress gets under way at noon today, with indications that many members intend to prolong their holiday and not return until next week.

The House had before it a Senate-passed bill to rename the national cultural center in honor of the late John F. Kennedy and provide some federal financing for it. The Senate had no major business scheduled.

In his personally delivered message Wednesday, Johnson is expected to expand on a theme he has been preaching for years—that the nation cannot afford to "surrender to poverty" just to "serve the ends of political bookkeeping."

A former school teacher, Johnson has laid heavy stress on education for the unskilled and those with skills outdated by automation who are, he said, thus "confined in an airtight

State Making Tabulation of Auctioneers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in history, the State Commerce Department is compiling an accurate count of how many auctioneers are operating in Ohio.

A new law that went into effect Oct. 10 requiring that all auctioneers be licensed by the state at $25 a year is the means to the count.

J. Gordon Peltier, commerce director, said that 1,059 have been licensed so far. He estimated that there are about 250 more auctioneers still to register.

Prior to adoption of the auction law, registration was handled by individual counties from which no state count was made.

The law provides that anyone who was licensed in any Ohio county for one year prior to Jan. 1, 1964, can be licensed by the state without passing an examination on auctioneering rules and regulations, a part of the new law.

If the person has not held an Ohio license previously he must pass the test, then serve one year as an apprentice auctioneer—employed by a licensed auctioneer and under his supervision.

This provision in the statute has caused a request for a legal opinion from Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe.

"Some auctioneers who have worked warehouse auctions (mostly for tobacco) for years and years in other states must serve as apprentices for a year when they come into Ohio under our law," Peltier said.

He added that the opinion is to determine if they cannot receive full licenses in their first year.

Peltier said that the licensing law, rules and regulations should bring about closer supervision of auctioneering in the state which, he said, was loosely enforced when controlled by individual counties.

New Trial Granted In Job Squabble

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Monday granted a new trial in the case of Jane Case of Columbiana against the Columbiana County commissioners.

On June 27 Mrs. Case, a former courthouse switch board operator replaced when the Republican-controlled board of commissioners took office, received a common pleas court verdict from the county for $3,952.50 and costs.

June 29, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Assistant Prosecutor Howard Cole filed a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and motion for a new trial.

Judge Buzzard overruled the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict but continued the motion for a new trial. On Aug. 5 he ruled that verdict as to damages was not supported by sufficient evidence and at that time the motion for a new trial was granted, unless Mrs. Case, on or before Aug. 15, consented to a remittitur in amount of $3,440.50 which was not done. Date for the new trial was not set.

More Advances Forecast for '64

Steel Industry Slugged Out Notable Gains In Past Year

By BOB VOELKER
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steel industry slugged out some notable gains in 1963. New advances are forecast for 1964.

Aided by a bustling national economy, steelmakers in 1963:

- 1—Pushed through two waves of price increases.
- 2—Rebounded from dismal profits in 1962.

- 3—Notched the first 100 million ton-plus production year since 1957.
- 4—Stepped up an already heavy flow of investment dollars for new plants and equipment.
- 5—Maintained a somewhat rosy relationship with the United Steelworkers Union.

But not all was well. Foreign producers continued to carve new inroads into American markets and hit a new high in exports to this country.

Price boosts, particularly the first one in the spring, got the biggest steel headlines of 1963 and were probably the most cherished accomplishment in the minds of steelmen.

Wheeling Steel Corp., 11th biggest producer, started it rolling April 10 with increases of $6 a ton on plate and a few other selected items in strong and growing demand.

All eyes in the industry turned to Washington.

The question was: Would the late President John F. Kennedy oppose the increase as he did the across-the-board hikes the year before?

Nearly 48 tense hours later,

Kennedy announced he would fight an across-the-board increase but would keep hands off selective price hikes.

The gates were open.

Another small producer made selective increases April 14; two more companies, including third-ranked Republic, followed suit April 15; and the following day, four major producers, including No. 1 U.S. Steel Corp., joined the parade.

It was estimated the increases covered 35 per cent of all steel shipments.

In late September and early October, another wave of price boosts swept the industry. Again it was a selective affair, covering mainly small diameter pipe and steel bar in wide use.

The two increases covered an estimated 70 per cent of all steel shipments.

The profit picture brightened considerably in 1963 with several companies reporting earnings gains of from 25 per cent to over 100 per cent in the first nine months.

A survey of companies producing 93 per cent of the nation's steel showed an earnings increase of $121 million in the first nine months, jumping from $418 million to $539 million. U.S. Steel earned $149.6 million in the period, compared to $122.8 million in the similar period of 1962.

As for production, 1963 was the best steel year since 1957 when 112 million tons were poured. With late-year figures still to be tabulated, it appeared the year's total would approach 108 million tons, compared to 98.8 million tons in 1962.

The good showings were attributed to healthy demands from makers of autos, appliances and railroad equipment and strong activity in the construction industry which was aided by six extra weeks of good weather in early and middle fall.

The nation's mills operated at an average of about 70 per cent of estimated capacity during the year.

Fear of labor contract trouble in the spring drove production steadily upward to the year's peak of 2.62 million tons in the week ended May 25. That was 85.5 per cent of rated capacity.

Contract agreements were reached June 20 and production went on a sharp decline, reaching the year's low of 58 per cent of capacity in early August. The year finished on a general upswing.

Most steel people feel production in the year ahead will at least equal the 1963 total and perhaps a bit higher. One source said it may go as high as 112 million tons.

On the labor scene, steel workers won an extended vacation program in a 21-month contract. It cost the companies an estimated 8 cents per hour per year of the contract.

The agreement, the first reached in the industry without a strike or a threat of a strike, reportedly amounted to an increase of less than 2 per cent.

Everything On Schedule

Among the things that turned out the way they were supposed to in 1963 was income on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Ohio Turnpike Commission reports income of $26,850,000, up nearly $600,000 from the 1962 total.

Yet, while more vehicles were using the Ohio Turnpike, the accident rate of 71.5 per 100 million miles was below the best previous rate—72.3.

The Turnpike Commission is ahead of schedule on retiring the revenue bonds that made the original construction possible. Besides being abreast of its obligation to keep the superhighway itself in A-1 condition, it has undertaken extensive improvement of its 16 restaurants.

In total, the Ohio Turnpike is continuing to be a thumping success. It is getting easier all the time to forget the frustration and travail that preceded the success—the litigation, legislative cackling, engineering problems and the perversity of public opinion once the project had been laid out for popular inspection.

EVERY CONCEIVABLE obstacle was put in the way. Even after the superhighway was opened for use midway in the '50s, truckers, whose revenue was supposed to make it feasible as a private investment, boycotted it to force down toll rates.

But gradually the problems were dealt with, and the Ohio Turnpike became a success story. Some lessons were learned, and lest they become commonplace the most important ones should be reviewed from time to time.

1. High-speed, well-engineered highways make money by saving money for their users. Turnpike tolls are less expensive than the extra cost of using ordinary roads.

2. Modern highways attract the traffic that will use them. The need for them cannot be determined in advance by traffic surveys. How can a traffic survey determine the need for a road that hasn't been built? Quarrels over the location of the Ohio Turnpike were silly. Once a superhighway has been located traffic will gravitate to it.

3. Maintenance is the prime secret of superhighway attractiveness. Without high-quality maintenance made possible by tolls, roads like the Ohio Turnpike and Pennsylvania Turnpike quickly would show evidence of wear and tear.

THE OHIO TURNPIKE, incidentally, will be turned over to the state of Ohio when its revenue bond holders have been paid off. Ohioans have a direct interest in its success.

A Hole In the Hat

No review of problems remaining to be solved in 1964 is complete without solemn pronouncements about South Viet Nam.

These pronouncements all hew to the theme that the United States is going to lose everything it has been fighting for there unless it steps up its efforts.

And the most important move in stepping up its efforts is to take military action against the "privileged sanctuary" from which the Vietnamese Communists are drawing supplies for their military efforts—Red China.

If this is not done, the experts declare, the United States could bleed to death in Asia fighting a hopeless action against people who regard human life as cheap and spend it recklessly.

Does this sound familiar?

It was Oct. 24, 1952. A national campaign was drawing to its close. Dwight D. Eisenhower said if he was elected he would go to Korea to seek an "early and honorable end" to a war the United States had no hope of winning because it would not take military action against the "privileged sanctuary" from which North Korean Communists were drawing supplies—Red China.

On July 27, 1953, an armistice ended the war in Korea. The Eisenhower promise to go to Korea was carried out. It was believed to have given the Republican candidate the last-minute push that carried him to a lopsided victory over Adlai E. Stevenson, who was furious about it.

By next fall, the United States again will be tired of bleeding in a war it cannot win without risking a head-on collision with Red China.

Another Korean truce could be in the making.

Another issue for a national campaign could be in the making too—a Republican pledge to extricate the United States from another military situation in which it is floundering by decision of a Democratic administration.

should stay that way to keep his heart from being overtaxed because during Christmas Mr. Santa gets higher than a kite but afterward is lower than the keel on the Queen Mary.

The idea that he is roly-poly is because he wears a space suit beneath his ho-ho getup like all astronauts when they are planning to get high. This is blown up like a tire, all the better to keep you rolling, as Mrs. Claus always says when she is giving the old goat the business with a bicycle pump.

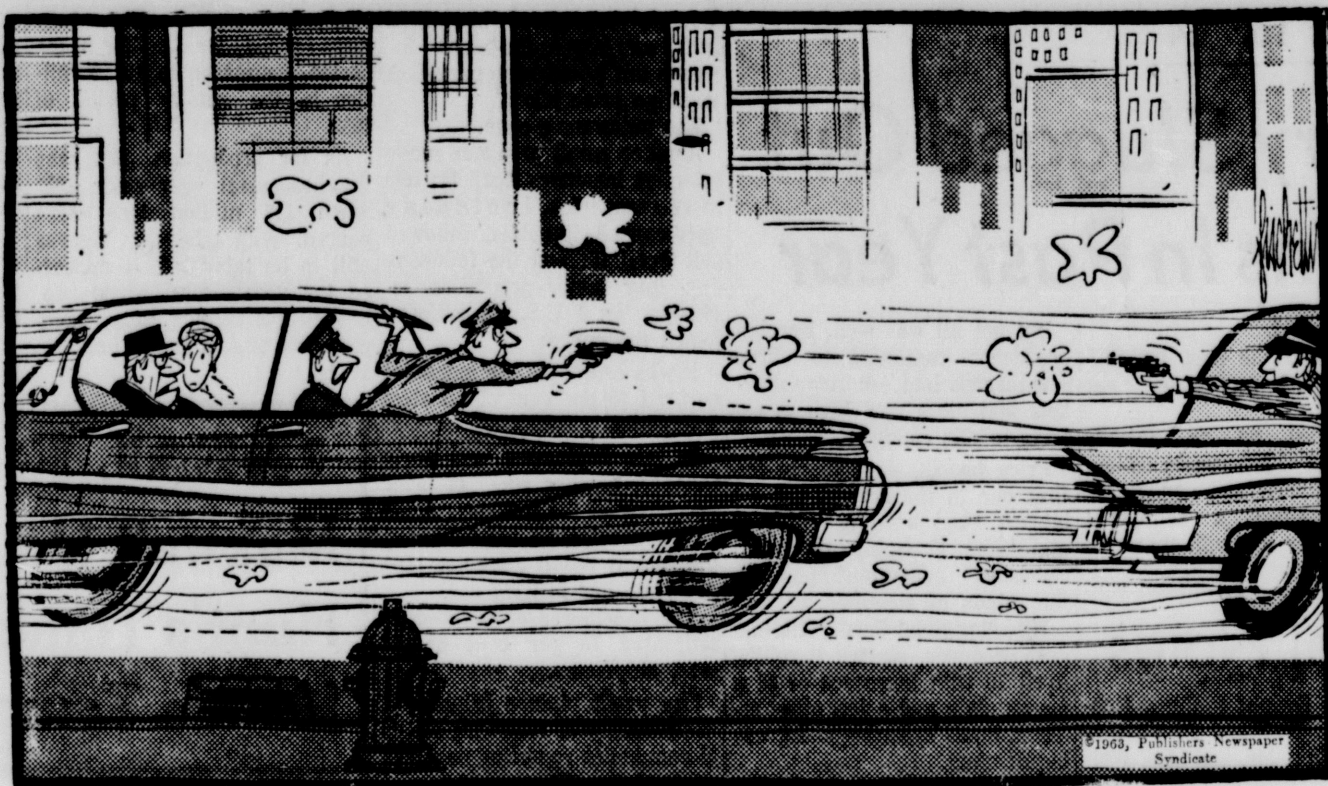

MR. CLAUS is a public relations man for the National Retail Merchants Association. After Christmas, he turns into an Easter bunny and goes hippy - hop - hop with a little white tail bobbing, and it isn't really his either.

When Easter is over, he and his family all go to the beach where they lie around incognito, because if his racket ever got out he would be smashed by any number of people who have second thoughts about the things he conned them into doing while the madness of Christmas and Easter shopping had them in its clutches.

Is not Mr. Claus a sad sight sitting on the couch in his undershirt and thermal drawers?

Is it not a shock to see him without the illusion?

Is it not a letdown to be reminded what the rest of us look like when our red suits and tasseled toboggan caps have been sent to the cleaners, too?

"Confiscatory Taxes, Government Meddling In Business, Commandeering Our Car—I Tell You Mildred, the Country's Going to the Dogs"

'Police State,' D. C.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe the news ought to be hushed up, though Moscow would soon learn the truth any how namely, that within the last three days a form of "police state" has been established in the District of Columbia.

The capital of the United States is supposed to be governed by laws passed by Congress. The three commissioners are appointed by the president, but they have no authority to write laws. They nevertheless have promulgated a "law" which imposes fines and jail sentences on any citizen—whether he be a property owner or a real estate salesman or in the real estate business—who refuses or fails to sell or rent "housing accommodations" to "any person because of the race, color, religion or national origin of such person."

Almost all of the states of the Union have not gone that far. Indeed, the Supreme Court of the United States in 1948 upheld the right of citizens not only collectively but individually to dispose of their property to whomever they pleased and to select a purchaser by any process of choice they cared to exercise.

The Supreme Court, in this case—known as Hurd v. Hodge—declared that, while a group of citizens in Washington, D.C., might enter into an agreement not to sell their property to certain purchasers, such an agreement could not be enforced in the courts or any dissenting signatory.

NOWHERE in the case is there any prohibition against the right of an individual to sell to whomever he wishes.

The commissioners of the District of Columbia are local officials, but they rarely do anything of great importance without the guidance of the White House. The late President Kennedy favored the issuance of an order forbidding any racial discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing in the District, but the order was held in abeyance.

Congressional committees expressed their disapproval and warned against action by the commissioners. There is no information available as to whether President Johnson was consulted by the commissioners before they announced that on Jan. 20 the new "law" will become effective.

The net effect of this development is to give support to the argument that "the end justifies the means." In the absence of action by Congress, the district commissioners went ahead anyhow. President Johnson will soon have to disclose whether he is in favor of the step taken by the district officials.

The text of the order issued by the commissioners says that "the police regulations of the District of Columbia" are to be considered as amended and that the action has been en-dered necessary because, among other things, there is a "clear relationship between poor housing conditions and the health and comfort of the occupants, and the effects of such conditions also constitute a danger to the property of both whites and Negroes."

CONGRESS 72 years ago gave the commissioners the right to make "police regulations" primarily to preserve order but nothing was said about the right of individuals under the Constitution to dispose of their property in any way they wish.

The Washington Star says editorially:

"Finally, the mere existence of the district ordinance is bound to affect thinking in the suburbs to some extent. And in the final analysis, this may be the most important effect of all. For despite the injustices which no doubt exist within the district, the goal of providing more and better housing for Negroes will not be fully realized until the barriers also are relaxed to a greater degree beyond the city limits."

But the nearby states of Maryland and Virginia have not passed any law interfering with the rights of citizens to use their own discretion in whatever sales of their property they may wish to make, nor is there any statute before Congress which goes that far.

The Washington Post in an editorial says:

"No one can expect this new law to have a sudden and radical effect upon Washington's overpriced housing market for Negroes. The uniformly white neighborhoods in the city are usually the expensive ones, and the ordinance cannot reach economic segregation."

SUCH A PREDICTION now is surrounded by doubt. For if the district commissioners can pass a "law" as an amendment to "police regulations" demanding that citizens dispose of their property in accordance with the dictates of the commissioners, then there is no reason why economic help cannot be demanded by citizens who cannot afford adequate housing and who would be assisted through taxpayers' money made available for that purpose.

The district commissioners cannot, of course, disburse public funds on their own initiative. They must have a law of Congress behind them, and it seems unlikely that Congress would appropriate money to subsidize residents of the district so that individuals with low incomes may enjoy more adequate housing in the better sections of the city, where most of the government officials reside.

A majority of the residents in the City of Washington now are Negroes, and there are demands for "home rule." If this comes, the district officials would then have control of the disbursement of all tax receipts and would be in a position to bring about "economic integration"—which, theoretically at least, it might be argued, would be just another form of equal rights.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever I read a letter in your column about middle-aged women having affairs with married men I have to smile.

I'm 33 and I've been having an affair with a married man for 12 years. This is not a large city and we go everywhere together. I wouldn't give him up for the world. He is kind, generous, handsome and treats me with respect and consideration. He hands over his uncashed paycheck every week.

No man, regardless of looks, wealth or social position could interest me. Nor could my lover be charmed away by another woman. He is the most important person in my life and I have dedicated myself to keeping him in love with me. I'm secure, content and at peace—because the man is my husband. — SET FOR LIFE.

Dear Set: Thank you for an unusual letter. Any woman who writes, "He is the most important person in my life and I have dedicated myself to keeping him in love with me," can't miss.

Mental Cripples

Dear Ann: You visited our city recently and in the newspaper write-up about you it was noted that you have a rare faculty for remembering names.

The inability to remember names has been a problem all my life and it has caused me a great deal of embarrassment. Do you have some sort of a secret system? If so, will you do a lot of people a big favor and pass it on? Thank you in advance for any help you can offer. — HOLES IN MY HEAD.

Dear Head: The chief reason people are unable to remember names is because they fail to get the name right when they are introduced. Make it a point to ASK that the name be repeated if you don't get it the first time. No one will be offended. It's flattering, in fact, because it indicates you're interested.

Use the name in your first sentence to that person and associate the name with something about the individual. For example, if the woman's name is Mrs. Bekin and she has a pointed nose like a beak, you're home free. If the man's name is Mr. Tallman and he happens to be a shrimp, well—make a mental note that Mr. Tallman is not tall at all and that his name doesn't fit.

Deliver me from the mental cripple who makes no effort to remember a name then tries to excuse himself by saying, "but I never forget a face."

Domineering Relatives

Dear Ann: My husband and I moved back to this city after having left it a newlyweds' years ago. My mother and two sisters live here. They are "the problem."

The first week my mother and sisters virtually took over my house and family. I thought they were trying to be helpful but now I realize they are attempting to involve themselves in my daily life on a continuing basis.

They want my husband and me to visit them every evening or else they ask if they can come here. My mother and sisters have no friends and claim they don't need friends because they have each other.

I don't want that kind of a life. I find my relatives thoroughly boring and so does my husband. How can we free ourselves from them without creating resentment? — HOG TIED

Dear Tied: Forget about working this out without resentment. It can't be done.

The only way to free yourself from the clutches of domineering relatives is to get busy with friends and activities. Tell your relatives when they call that you have plans for the evening. Before long they'll get the picture.

On the Couch

By Truman Twill

See Mr. Santa Claus lying on the couch in his undershirt and thermal drawers. He sees you.

He is wondering what became of the other people who recently were tugging at his coat-tail and beard. Where did everybody go, he is asking.

Mr. Claus is as overlooked as a football defensive back who broke his leg in an second exhibition game. No one even invited him to a New Years Eve party; that is how overlooked he is.

His red suit and tasseled toboggan cap have been sent to the cleaners, which is justice because of the people Mr. Claus sent to the cleaners while riding high. Wheeee.

His subordinate Clauses also have been shot down and will be given no attention again until next December, except by school marm and grammarians.

NOTE THAT Mr. Claus in his undershirt and thermal drawers does not look like any jolly elf. If anything bugs him more than kiddies who grow overexcited on his lap, it is the elf jazz.

When the real Mr. Claus stands up, he is 5-8 in his sock feet and 27 pounds underweight according to insurance company charts. There is nothing elfin about him, except his ears, which are pointed, the way all the ears are among the menfolk in his family. He is 100 per cent American and fighting to save the American way of life.

He is skinny and his doctor says he should stay that way to keep his heart from being overtaxed because during Christmas Mr. Santa gets higher than a kite but afterward is lower than the keel on the Queen Mary.

Despite the public's belief that the security reports on the assassination of John Kennedy are virtually all completed, the double killing still appears wide open.

Special FBI agents are tracking down every one of Ruby's connections in many cities. They are not satisfied that they have them all. Federal men in the working with the Central Intelligence Agency and State Department "security" people, are retracing the movements and background of Lee Harvey Oswald and his widow.

Another investigatory force will be the President's Commission on the Assassination of John F. Kennedy. It has not yet swung into action in its 12-room headquarters covering the entire fourth floor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building at 200 Maryland ave NE, Washington, which is sort of catercornered from the Supreme Court.

When it does so, early in the year, under the direction of the Nebraska-born, 56-year-old legal scientist J. Lee Rankin, it will conduct investigations of its own on several levels. It will not have an investigation division but will draw on government agencies as it wishes.

THE COMMISSION already has established a permanent liaison with the Justice Department. This is maintained by the assistant U.S. attorney general, Howard Willens, who is second in charge of the Criminal Division of the department. He has been peeled off from "Justice" and is spending full time at the commission headquarters.

Commission members themselves will probe into the assassination instead of doing an armchair research job. They will go into field single and in groups and it's fully expected that the entire commission will eventually sit in Dallas. There appears to be no doubt that they will talk at great length with Ruby, the cocky killer of the alleged assassin.

That will come after the trial, it can be presumed. Some insiders expect a swift court session for Ruby. Then, Ruby will be placed under oath by the commission and will testify as a regular witness. The commission has the power to issue subpoenas.

DIGGING into Oswald's "fuzzy Marxism" (a State Department description) will hardly be difficult for either former CIA director Allen Dulles, or for the commission's chief counsel J. Lee Rankin.

The latter, while solicitor-general, argued for the United States in the Supreme Court on the Communist passport and Communist party membership cases under the Smith Act.

Back in April 1955 Rankin wrote a scholarly treatise on the question of trading in surplus agricultural commodities with Soviet bloc countries.

All sides, including the highest bar association circles, consider him one of the finest and most objective legal minds in the land.

Aiding him and the commission will be two groups of lawyers. One set will consist of six or eight senior attorneys.

THEY ARE being chosen geographically, as well as for their legal accomplishments and erudition. They will sift and analyze all federal agency reports—and whatever is found under the commission's own direction. "These will be mature men," I was told, "with large experience in trials and investigation and evaluation. They cannot yet be identified. During the early stages they will be fulfilling their obligations to their own clients. They will interrupt their personal work, however, to cooperate with the commission."

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Recipes for yeast rolls always seem to direct that the dough be covered with a clean white cloth and set aside to rise — but they never tell how to keep that cloth from resting on the rolls and impeding their rising! Here is the way I have found to solve the problem:

Slip the pan of rolls into a plastic bag. Catch a bit of air into the bag and then fasten the bag with a rubber band.

The plastic bag will balloon out and never touch the rolls. The rolls will be protected from draft and you can watch their progress as they rise!

LETTER OF LAUGHTER?

DEAR HELOISE: You would be surprised how many of us have cold feet . . . even in the summer.

I have used heating pads for years. They are grand but now I have come across a better method:

My wife's hair dryer with that big plastic hood!

Soon as I get home, I wash my feet, put on a pair of clean socks and stick both feet inside the "cap" m m m turn on the dryer and away I go. Once my feet are warm I'm human again.

Try it yourself. You will love it.

COLD-FOOT-FOR-40-YEARS.

You all may laugh at that one but I tried it. It sure works!

You can move your feet inside the plastic cap and rub one against the other.

This idea is also wonderful for mothers with small children who come home with wet shoes and damp socks.

There is only one trouble. It feels so good that you won't want to turn the dryer off!

COLD-FOOT-FOR-44-YEARS.

DEAR HELOISE: I discovered that the soft drink bottle carriers are excellent for storing bottles of formula in my refrigerator. They can be filled with bottles on the kitchen counter and transferred to the refrigerator with one easy maneuver.

"WE BUILT FOR COMFORT and CONVENIENCE, that's why WE CHOSE ELECTRIC HEAT"

...and as far as the Barrs are concerned they made the right choice. As Mrs. Barr says, "One of the biggest advantages is that it is easy to keep the house clean." And she adds, "It's comfortable. There are no drafts."

The Barrs like the idea of a thermostat in each room too. "The temperature can be set to suit each of us. The girls like to sleep in a cooler room — and so do we. We keep the living room warmer, of course," says Mrs. Barr.

Mr. Barr likes the fact that "Electric heating is much cleaner, and there are no maintenance problems. It's trouble free. You don't have to worry about it."

On Reopening Berlin Wall

E. Germans Insist Brandt Join Talks

BERLIN (AP) — The East German government is demanding West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's personal participation at the start of any new negotiations to reopen the Communist wall to West Berliners.

The Communist demand appeared to raise a new obstacle to any agreement to renew the Christmas pass arrangement that ended at midnight Jan. 5 after 17 days of visits by West Berliners to relatives in the Soviet sector of the city.

The East German condition was put to Brandt in a letter from Deputy Premier Willi Stoph, an authoritative source disclosed Monday night. It was regarded as part of the Communist regime's continuing campaign to whittle away at the refusal of the Western Allies in Berlin and the West German government to recognize it.

Brandt is under pressure from the Western Allies and his own government to avoid any gestures that could hurt the cause of nonrecognition.

Brandt's city government as well as the Western Allies have stipulated that new negotiations stipulated that new negotiations must be held on the same level as the talks that resulted in the previous agreement. Those talks were held between Cultural Affairs Ministers Horst Korber of West Berlin and Erich Wendt of East Germany.

Brandt may reply to the Communist demand when Korber and Wendt meet later this week, sources said.

The two officials met last Saturday, and Stoph's letter to Brandt was handed over at the time. West Berlin also laid down its conditions in a seven-point memorandum, but the East German representative reportedly tore up the paper.

Contents of the West Berlin memorandum were not disclosed.

Board

who had resigned.

Under the new plan adopted last night by the board, business manager Arthur Furey was appointed clerk and Wallace N. King, who declined a reappointment as clerk-treasurer, was named to act as a financial assistant and consultant to the board and school administration.

"This makes us probably the only school around with both a board clerk and a comptroller," Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith said after the decision.

King, who is chief accountant of the firm, Hill, Barth & King, asked in a letter to the board not to be considered for reappointment as clerk - treasurer, which he has been the past five years, due to press of his business. His term expired Dec. 31.

King's duties with his company often meant problems arose in signing checks, making bank deposits and arranging for loans. "I feel that efficient school administration requires the day-to-day presence of a clerk," he said.

Pay Not Disclosed

King will be paid a regular accounting fee although definite figures were not released last night. One member said he thought the cost of conducting the financial work will "be no more, perhaps less" under the new plan.

Furey, who has been business manager since D. W. Fadely left for Africa, will continue in that capacity, in addition to his duties as clerk.

King's duties will include the preparation of monthly financial and budgetary reports; supervision of the operation of the accounting system; preparation of annual and semi-annual reports; monthly reconciliations of bank balances; preparation of census reports and others financial in nature; assisting in preparation of the annual appropriation; attendance at finance committee meetings; and giving accounting or office procedure help that may be required.

Furey Gets $300 Extra

As clerk, Furey will record minutes of meetings; sign all warrants and checks; assume responsibility for deposits of moneys; sign administration reports such as milk report, reimbursement requests, etc.; arrange for short term borrowings when necessary and execute the notes; and assume the legal responsibilities of the clerk of the Board of Education.

The board voted an increase in pay of $300 to Furey for his new duties. This, coupled with his salary as business manager of $7,800 will give Furey a total salary of $8,100.

Former vice-president Herron was elected new president succeeding Orein A. Naragon, who retired from the board after 12 years of service.

Naragon Honored

The retiring president was presented a plaque of appreciation for his dozen years of dedicated service. Herron made the presentation in behalf of the other members, including new vice-president Kendall, Robert Campbell, Dr. Ralph Starbuck and John Herman Jr.

Supt. Smith, in place of King, administered the oath of office to Herman, beginning his first term, and to Herron and Kendall, who re-won seats last November. Furey was sworn in as clerk by president Herron.

The board re-established a meeting date of the third Monday of each month, the same as last year. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m. in the junior high library.

Appropriation Resolution

The board okayed a temporary appropriation of $393,800 to cover the period of Jan. 1 to March 31, enabling Clerk Furey to approve purchase orders in that time. Largest sum in the temporary appropriation is for instruction, totaling $228,500. A total of $14,350 more is set aside for administration in the first quarter.

Also adopted was a "service fund" of $1,000 to provide for the attendance of administrators and board members at official meetings for training and other purposes. Upon the certification to the board by the superintendent of the annual school enrollment, Ohio law permits the establishment of a service fund at a sum not to exceed 20 cents per pupil or $1,000, whichever is greater.

Salem, as of Nov. 11, had a student body of 3,738 which at 20 cents each, would yield $756.60.

Custodian Honored

A resolution lauding Russell L. Myers, retiring Prospect School custodian for 22 years, was passed by the board. Praising Myers for his "honest, straightforward and loyal" manner of relationship with his colleagues and the school administration, the board expressed deepest appreciation for his years of service to the Prospect School community.

Frank Goodman, who has been custodian at Fourth Street School, was named to replace Myers at a total salary of $3,600, including $3,200 for a 40-hour week and $400 for 260 hours overtime.

Bus Complaint Aired

On the heels of transportation complaints by two mothers west of the city, child accounting officer Deane Phillips said that bus drivers have been instructed explicitly not to start their morning runs ahead of schedule. The mothers had charged the buses traveling the Damascus Rd. sometimes came early, that children must cross the road and that the drivers would not pick them up on that side.

Phillips said further it would be impossible for any of the eight buses to make two runs. Part of the buses start out at 7:15 a.m. and the other at 7:20.

Phillips said the complaints are the first lodged against the transportation system in 14 years. Supt. Smith also said these are the first complaints since he began in 1959.

"More than 99 percent of the parents with children riding buses are satisfied," Phillips declared. "Rather than criticizing the transportation of children, the bus drivers and administration should be praised for their efficient service," he added.

Another mother present expressed regret that her children and others who arrive early have such a wait of some minutes before their classes take up. The board said this is a necessary situation for which there is now no remedy.

Ohio Edison Co. to Close Lisbon Office

The Ohio Edison Co. will close its Lisbon office after business hours on Friday, it was announced Monday by H. B. Gould of Youngstown, division manager.

The Farmers National Bank will maintain a collection office at Ohio Edison's present location, 35 N. Park Ave. The Firestone Bank will also serve as a collection point, the division manager said.

Gets Bliss Post

C. William Paxton

C. William Paxton has been promoted to the position of proposal engineer at the Salem Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. Paxton, a native of Pittsburgh, is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Technology with a B.S.M.E. degree. He is a veteran of the U. S. Army, having served overseas in Germany.

Paxton started with the E. W. Bliss Company in 1959 as a junior engineer in the company's Engineers' Development Program. In 1960 he was assigned to the Salem Division as an estimator, and he was promoted to senior estimator in 1963.

He and his wife, Ruth, reside at 234 W. 16th St. with their two children, Timothy and Suzanne.

President Johnson but considers him "first of all today a leader bound by the commitments of his party. And in that role I shall do oppose him with all the support I can gather. For his party is wrong."

"The President will expound on his inheritance from his predecessor's administration," Goldwater said. "These inherited proposals he must not and he cannot reject—or even materially revise."

"These cannot be listed among President Johnson's assets," Goldwater said. "They are his liabilities."

The Arizona conservative said Johnson himself "knows that Republican ways are the ways to inspire Americans today."

"Even while he tells his staff that he is, frankly, a Roosevelt New Dealer, he tries to sell the public on the idea that he is a conservative."

Goldwater, who today launches his campaign in New Hampshire, says "our opponent is the Democratic regime now in power. I do not believe in intra-party blood-letting."

number of other matters.

In the wake of Pope Paul's resounding welcome home by more than a million cheering Romans, his trip continued to generate speculation of more papal travel abroad.

Indian sources said previously the pontiff has accepted an invitation to go to Bombay next fall for an international Eucharistic congress. There also is a long-standing invitation, extended earlier to Pius XII and John XXIII, to visit the shrine of Mary at Lourdes, France.

There also is talk of a trip to Africa, which Pope Paul visited in 1962 while a cardinal.

Beaver Board Picks Officers

Paul Dailey New President For '64

Poultry farmer Paul Dailey of Apples Corners, who has served as vice-president of the Beaver Local School District Board of Education the past 10 years, has been named president of that group, replacing long-time president Jack Pozenel of West Point, who resigned.

Vice-president is Arnold Green of Rogers, who operates a soft water service.

The oath of office was administered to three new members: Clayton Aughinbaugh, William Smith and Lee Myers.

Harry Greenwood was re-employed as clerk for four more years and the board approved his public officials' bond in the sum of $1,000.

A temporary appropriation resolution was approved for the first 90-days including $160,353 in general fund, $36,725 for cafeteria, $828 in Title III, and $152.60 in the building fund.

The board expressed appreciation for the services of three retired members: Pozenel, R. J. Schiff and George Wilkinson.

Meeting dates were set as the first and third Mondays of each month rather than the second and fourth Mondays.

Board Meets At B. Center, Reorganizes

BERLIN CENTER—The Western Reserve School District, minus a member following the resignation of long-time member Harold Brown, re-organized at its first 1964 meeting Monday night.

Elected president was Dr. Paul Olson who will serve his first term at the helm. Muriel Hively was chosen vice-president.

The group accepted the resignation of Brown, former president, who in November won a position on the Mahoning County Board of Education. The board hopes to name a replacement for Brown at its next meeting Jan. 16 at Berlin School.

Clerk Charles Zimmerman, back for his first meeting since a corn picker accident last fall, administered the oath of office to re-elected members Theodore Keck and Francis Miller. The clerk was re-employed for a four-year period.

The board will meet the third Wednesday of each month, as usual, except this month when the group will convene Jan. 16 and in February when the meeting will be held Feb. 12 to permit several board members to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City the following week.

A temporary appropriation of $75,000 for the first 90-day period of 1964 was approved.

Yeagley administered the oath of office to Mayor Wilson, clerk James Wilson, councilmen Walter Blythe and Mervin McKarns, and treasurer L. E. Falloon. Other councilmen attending were Alvin Marquis, Arthur Kibler, Herman Ziegler and Joseph Wilson. Street Commissioner Harvey Trough, marshal Roy Painter, assistant county prosecutor Joseph Barozzi, and three citizens were also present.

Trough was re-employed as street commissioner but no immediate action was taken on Painter's re-appointment as marshal.

clock and bell service for the year at a rate of $67 was approved.

Board members voted to join the Ohio School Board Association for the year. The cost, based on valuation per pupil and average daily membership, will be $150 for the board.

No replacement was hired to fill the vacancy of Jesse Edgerton, school custodian, who is in ill health. Edgerton plans to retire from custodian service Feb. 1.

New Commencement Plan

The board approved the request of the class of 1964 for a student participation commencement similar to the type used successfully by the class of 1963.

Some discussion was held regarding a possible building program. At the request of two new board members, Roland Dorr and Henry Loudon, Cope announced a special meeting at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 20 to acquaint the entire board with the needs of the school, based upon present crowded conditions and the projected enrollment.

At 7:50 a.m. a trucker, McArthur Coleman, 20, of Masury lost control of his vehicle on the slippery surfaces of Route 30, about two miles north of East Liverpool. His truck went off the left side, struck a guard rail and overturned.

Another trucker, Donald Sarver, 28, of Farrell, Pa., went out of control on ice at 8:10 a.m. on Route 7, about three miles south of Rogers, and skidded off the right side and into a ditch.

Russell Shepherd, 63, of East Liverpool went out of control at 9:55 a.m. on Route 30, about a mile north of East Liverpool, near the Coleman mishap. His car went off the left side, hit a guard rail, backed across the highway and struck a bridge on the right side.

Salem To Battle Scrappy Harding Squad Friday

Panthers Rate As Favorites

Beat Quakers Twice During Last Season

Just how much stride Salem has picked up since the opening of the season Dec. 7 should be determined when it takes on a scrappy Warren Harding squad Friday in an Ohio Big 8 Conference game.

The Quakers, who turned hustlers and displayed plenty of determination against Alliance for their first win of the season 80-54 last Saturday have an added incentive against Warren. Last year the Panthers knocked off the Red and Black twice, 64-60 during the regular season and 57-54 in the Class AA district event at Youngstown.

Three regulars off last year's squad are back with the Panthers. Harding, which lacks the tall players this season, still will have more size than the Quakers going into the game.

THE PANTHERS RATE as slight favorites, having compiled a 5-4 record so far, compared to the 1-5 mark held by the Red and Black.

Three-year veterans Mike Richetto, 5-11 guard; and Dick Androsko, 6-1 forward; spearhead the smooth working offense employed by Harding. Both players are seniors.

Richetto has chalked up 159 points and Androsko has netted 120. Dick Thomas, a 6-1 junior, is next with 79 markers. Bill Redderson, 6-2½ senior center, is the tallest boy on the first unit. Frank Strother, 5-9 junior, goes at a guard.

A few weeks ago, Don Fitch, 6-1 senior, performing in the Warren City Basketball League, was persuaded to tryout for the Harding varsity. Since then he has made great progress.

He has been elevated to the sixth-man position based on the impression made on the Harding coaching staff for his surprising basketball ability in just three games.

FITCH HAS COLLECTED 27 points in those appearances. He sparked the Harding rally in the 64-59 victory over Canton McKinley, and tallied 13 points in the Panthers' loss to Canton McKinley 65-38.

In loop action, the Panthers are 1-2. Salem is 1-1. Both schools have lost contests to Massillon. The Quakers dropped an 81-51 decision to the Tigers, and Harding tasted a 79-64 defeat.

Bunched close in the scoring department are four of Salem's starters, and if the team effort continues, the Quakers could surprise the Panthers.

Rick Gregg, 5-9 junior, still leads the Red and Black with 83 points. His margin has been cut by Wayne Washington, 5-10 senior, who has 81.

Sophomore sensation Jim Lantz, 5-10, has ignited that burning desire attitude usually recognized in Salem teams. Since he began as a starter, the young poise athlete has set the example for the Quakers. He has 63 points.

George Begalla, 5-10 senior, put forth his best effort in the Aviators fray and came up with his best game so far by scoring 20 points. He has 64 for the campaign.

Boxing Cards May Still Be On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — There may be weekly network television of boxing even if the American Broadcasting Co. drops the weekly Friday night show.

There's a possibility that Madison Square Garden, which holds the contract for television's Fight of the Week, may set up its own independent network and continue with the boxing program. The National Basketball Association has done it this season and other groups have signed up individual stations to form their own networks for certain types of shows.

ABC recently announced it was dropping the fight program this year. It may be done by April 1 although the garden has a contract through September. CBS and NBC, the other major networks, carried boxing for a long time before dropping the sport.

The sponsoring Gillette Co., which has bankrolled boxing, telecasts since 1943 has said it would like to continue the program.

Garden officials stressed that the formation of an independent network was only in the talking stage.

BIG TEST — Floyd Patterson, right, former world champion heavyweight, shakes hands with the Italian champ, Sante Amonti, during the weigh-ins for their fight in Stockholm, Sweden. He went on to win by a TKO in 8th round of comeback bout.

Patterson TKO's Amonti In First Bout In Comeback For Title Shot

STOCKHOLM (AP) — "I'll give up my hope for a chance to meet Sonny Liston again but I realize that maybe I don't deserve it yet. I want to give the first round of two title bouts with Liston. I consider the victory a step first short step on his comeback on the road toward a new chance at the world heavy-weight title," said Patterson, who stopped Amonti in 2:25 of the eighth round of a 10-round match after knocking him down three times.

Although Amonti is the heavy-weight champion of Italy he is unranked in the world ratings. Patterson is the No. 8 contender.

In fact there was doubt that Amonti would be approved as an opponent. In 1961 he had been involved in an auto accident in which a woman was killed. At the trial the boxer reportedly told the judge he lost his eyesight for an instant just before the accident. The judge recommended that his driver's license be revoked and a new hearing is pending. However, the European Boxing Union approved the Italian as an opponent for the ex-champ.

The last knockdown in the eighth round Amonti reeling back and finally sitting on the bottom rope. He got up, tried to move and finally accepted the inevitable. The Italian opened his arms wide in a gesture of resignation, a familiar ending for a European bout.

It was Floyd's first fight since he was knocked out by Liston in 2:10 of the first round at Las Vegas, Nev. last July 22. A year before in Chicago Liston finished him off in 2:06 of the first.

UCLA Pulls Ahead In Cage Survey; Davidson Voted 5th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay UCLA, it's your turn to face the jinx.

For the second week in a row a new team turns up at the top of the Associated Press basketball poll and UCLA hopes to stick around a bit longer than last week's leader, Kentucky.

The Wildcats lasted just one week after grabbing the top spot from Loyola of Chicago.

Loyola led the poll from its first week but seemed to be struggling and finally slipped against Georgetown, D.C. Kentucky took over and ran into Georgia Tech. Now it's undefeated UCLA sitting on top.

The Bruins grabbed the top spot by polling 31 first place votes of the 41 cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Kentucky was favored by only two voters for the top spot but mustered enough points to outdistance Loyola of Chicago for the runner-up spot.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc.

Cincinnati dropped two of three on a Western trip last week and slipped from fourth to eighth. Michigan jumped one spot to fourth and undefeated Davidson climbed to fifth after being No. 7 last week.

Oregon State scrambled into sixth place ahead of Vanderbilt, another upset victim last week. Villanova and Duke complete the listing.

NCAA Suspends Iowa, Centenary

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association still is cracking the whip but some of the sting is gone.

"It's not that we're getting soft," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said today after chiding five institutions for recruiting violations and relaxing sanctions against a sixth. "It's just that the colleges are behaving better—we are having fewer and fewer major abuses."

The University of Iowa and little Centenary College of Shreveport, La., each drew a one year probation. Alabama and Houston were officially reprimanded, and Washington State got off lightest of all—a word of caution.

At the same time, Indiana University, under a four-year probationary penalty, had its sanctions relaxed so that Indiana athletes might compete in events pointing to the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Leniency was the mood of the feared NCAA council, sports policy-making body of some 600 colleges and universities, in disclosing punishment for those members who had not adhered strictly to the rules.

Besides Indiana, New Mexico State, Hardin-Simmons, Dayton and Colorado are major universities which have been slapped with sanctions in recent years. Most of these sanctions end this year.

The University of Iowa was found guilty of the largest number of transgressions—enough to fill a full page of typewritten copy.

They included:
1. A football player who held a campus job during summer school and received pay for work he didn't perform. This happened in 1961.

2. A basketball player, holding an off-campus job, received a $75 advance from his employer and then dropped out of school before paying back the money.

3. A group of basketball players visiting the campus were given uniforms and permitted to practice with members of the university team, at times in presence of the coaches.

4. A football player was contacted at another institution without Iowa first contacting the athletic director of the other school.

The council frowned on these acts but said, like a forgiving parent, that they "did not reflect any pattern and disregard for the governing rules of the association."

Centenary was accused of transporting prospective basketball players to the campus and back in a private company airplane in violation of the sanity code.

"It happened more than once," Byers said, but added that the school authorities had been most penitent and cooperative in the investigations.

Houston had its wrist slapped for transporting two football players to the campus in a private plane. This became a violation when the representative failed to accompany the prospects, who wound up not entering the school after all.

Alabama was censured and reprimanded because its coaches contacted a football player who was enrolled at another school without notifying the other school's athletic director.

Alabama officials said it was a matter of misinterpretation of the words "student athlete" since the player in question had not competed at the other school but had entered merely to get proper credits.

Washington State was cautioned for a similar violation involving a track athlete. The punishment was lighter because Washington State reported the violation itself, Byers said.

The day's biggest surprise was the relaxation of sanctions against Indiana.

Under the move, Indiana athletes, previously barred from postseason activity and title events, were given permission to compete in any competition pointing to the Tokyo Olympics.

This opened the door for Indiana's fine squad of swimmers, including several record holders, basketball players, gymnasts and wrestlers.

Indiana is eligible to compete in the NCAA basketball tournament, from which it had been barred.

Eight pro quarterbacks got their start in the Southwest Conference. Rice leads with three—Tobin Rice, Frank Ryan and King Hill.

Harney Captures LA Open By Stroke With 280 Card

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golfer Paul Harney, who thought he'd never win another tournament until he captured the $50,000 Los Angeles Open, is a fellow who thinks tournament golf is for the birds — and he doesn't mean golf birdies.

Harney headed for his adopted home at Sunset Oaks near Sacramento, Calif. Tuesday. Monday afternoon, finished in a four-way tie for third at 282.

Palmer had a 70, his third and richer by $7,500 for his biggest victory after nine years on the tournament circuit.

The 34-year-old product of Worcester, Mass. shot an even par 71 for a 72-hole total of 280, four strokes under par for the distance, leaving behind the celebrated Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros and a few others who kept yipping at his heels but could never quite catch him in the final round.

Bobby Nichols was second, with a 71 for 281. Palmer, who could never get any closer than two shots of the front runner his lowest score of the tournament. Tied with Palmer were Bob Goalby, 67; Dow Finsterwald, 78, and Al Geiberger, 70. Dave Marr, with a 68, and Tommy Jacobs, 70, finished with 283, while Boros rallied with a 68 and a tie at 285.

Finley Plans To Transfer A's Baseball Team To Louisville

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Despite a blistering attack on his plan from other American League club owners, Charles O. Finley said today he is certain he will be permitted to transfer the Athletics from Kansas City to Louisville.

Finley said he would accept Gov. Edw. rd T. Breathitt's invitation and would go before the Kentucky General Assembly at its opening session today in Frankfort "not to plead but to ask for their (the lawmakers) support."

"I think—no, I'm confident—the fans here will give as much support, if not more, to major league baseball as those in Kansas City," said the Athletics' owner, putting the emphasis on the confident.

Sain Features 1963 Sports Boners

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

There were some monumental boners pulled in sports during 1963 and a lot of athletes, coaches and managers are glad to see the old year disappear.

All the skulls and boobies can't be mentioned here so anything you see in this space can be topped by playing a little game with your friends.

There were some who talked themselves out of a job, like pitching coach Johnny Sain, normally a high class and quiet sort of a guy.

THE YANKEES announced he had signed for 1964 but a day later the mail turned up Sain's contract unsigned. Sain sought a two-year pact and a raise from $22,500 to $25,000 a year. Result: No baseball job, and no World Series share.

Giant Manager Alvin Dark blasted slugger Orlando Cepeda and American League batting champ Carl Yastrzemski blasted Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky.

San Francisco's Giants limped home third, one game ahead of the Phils, because they got stuck in a deal with Baltimore. It went Stu Miller, Mike McCormick and John Orsino of the Giants for Jack Fisher, Billy Hoelt and Jim Coker.

Miller made 71 appearances for the Orioles, was 5-8 with many saves and a 2.25 earned run average. Miller and McCormick (6-8) pitched 248 innings; sore-armed Hoelt and Fisher only 140 with both 4.50 in ERA. Catcher Coker didn't play a National League game, while Orsino got in 116 AL games—109 as a catcher—and hit 19 home runs with a .272 average.

FOOTBALL'S BIGGEST field boner was read, seen and heard around the world. Army had first down on Navy's seven-yard line with 1:38 to go but the Cadets couldn't cram in a fourth down play and fell two yards short of a possible tie and victory. Coach Paul Dietzel took the blame, admitting he gave instructions that every play must be preceded by a time-consuming huddle.

Professional football's rock came when the National Football League announced with a blare of trumpets that it would "investigate players' outside associations." The probe uncovered gambling on games and the NFL's Golden Boy, Paul Hornung, was suspended indefinitely along with Detroit's Alex Karras.

They probably will be reinstated during the baseball season.

THE DODGERS pulled a boner by winning four straight from the Yankees in the World Series. It meant loss of Game

5 receipts, and a $511,790 pot, most of which would have gone to Walter O'Malley's club treasury. The players, who share only in the first four games of a World Series, felt sorry for their boss. However, none said he would accept a pay cut for 1964.

The baseball Giants pulled a post-season rock by passing up their chance to get second baseman Jerry Lumpe from Kansas City for right fielder Felipe Alou. Lumpe went to Detroit and F. Alou to Milwaukee where it is just possible he will keep the Giants from winning a pennant. He may play against them 18 times this year.

And the Giants still are looking for a man to make the double plays and bail out a disrupted pitching staff.

NOTRE DAME pulled a blue one by announcing prematurely that Ara Parseghian of Northwestern had signed a four-year contract. Result: They almost lost Ara, but he signed three days later.

However, there will be no hard feelings if he can lift the Irish football fortunes as he did Northwestern's.

The biggest rock of all was the assassin who cost the United States a sports-minded president.

Vanderbilt Picks Off Kentucky 85-83; Xavier Pins 121-113 Loss On Detroit

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a long slide from the No. 1 college basketball ranking in the country to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference but Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats have completed the trip in less than a week.

Kentucky led the country in last week's Associated Press poll. Then the Wildcats ran into their first conference foe, Georgia Tech. The Engineers demolished the Wildcats and the loss dropped Kentucky to No. 2 in this week's poll. Monday night it was Vanderbilt and today the Wildcats find themselves pecking out of the conference basement with an 0-2 record.

John Ed Miller was the star for seventh-ranked Vanderbilt in an 85-83 thriller. His last second jump from 30 feet out won it. Roger Schurig led Vandy with 22 and Miller added 18. Terry Gibson's 19 topped the losers.

The game had been billed as a battle of SEC titans but instead it was a struggle to escape the conference cellar. Vanderbilt's opening league loss to Tennessee had left it just with Kentucky in the basement but now the Wildcats are all alone. Well, almost alone. Kentucky does have some company. Tulane shares last place after dropping its 11th straight game, 87-83 to Georgia. Chances are Kentucky will break its cellar lease before its co-tenants do.

In other college conference play another pre-season favorite ran into trouble. Kansas State, a Big Eight power, ran up a 14-point bulge on Colorado with less than 12 minutes to play, then suddenly lost the range and eventually the game, 60-59.

Utah State handed Utah its second loss in thirteen starts, 66-72 in a nonconference clash. There were plenty of points in the Tupper of Ohio-Detroit game with Xavier winning 121-113.

South Carolina shot 60 per cent from the field and handed Wake Forest its first Atlantic Coast Conference setback 77-69. Texas Western grabbed a 77-72 demolition over Arizona State. In other major games, North Carolina State downed Indiana 79-65. Michigan State clouted Wisconsin 106-90. Nebraska dumped Iowa State 55-52. Oklahoma State outscored Kansas 64-48. Missouri stopped Oklahoma 84-74. Furman beat Wake Forest 66-58. George Washington whipped Virginia Tech 96-89. The Citadel topped William and Mary 63-60. Mississippi slipped by Auburn 59-58. Mississippi State downed Alabama 69-56. Louisiana State whacked Florida 87-65 and Arizona knocked off Seattle 59-55.

Salem Forest Loss 36-33 To Clippers

Salem's freshman team hit a mid-streak in the second half and dropped a 36-33 demolition to Columbiana at the Clippers' gymnasium Monday.

The Quakers took a 5-1 lead in the initial period, held a 19-7 margin at intermission and a 27-25 spread at the end of the third quarter. Columbiana outscored Salem 11-6 in the final frame.

Parks led the Clippers with 11 points. Cross chipped in with 10. John Tolson chalked up 16 markers to pace Salem.

The Red and Black made only 13 of 49 from the field for 26.5 per cent, and seven of 14 from the free throw lane.

Salem will take on Ravenna freshmen at Junior High gymnasium today at 4 p.m.

Horse People Have a Language of Own

But the Horse Doesn't Talk To Anyone

By JACK MARTIN
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ready for a race track language test? Okay, try this:

"Hey, Joe, where ya headed, what kind of deal ya got?"
"Up north—Chicago wages, no standees and nobody to walk the shed!"

"What luck! I've got one standing in lily whites and another wants to go to China all the time!"

That bit of rapartee, as Cliff Burke of Churchill Downs tells it, is an example of the colorful lingo heard behind the scenes at America's horse racing tracks.

HERE IS a translation, provided by Burke, a supervisor at the Louisville track:

"Chicago wages" means top pay for grooms, exercise boys, etc., "no standees" means no horse standing in bandages; and "nobody to walk the shed" means there is no foreman to roam around and ride herd on workers.

The above exchange of comment was heard between drivers of two horse vans. Now for the one who complained:

"One standing in lily whites" means a horse in bandages, and "going to China" means a horse that digs by pawing dirt out of its stall and the groom has to keep putting it back in.

WORKERS AROUND a track "more or less talk in telegrams," says Burke. "An absolute stranger wouldn't understand what they said."

Brevity is the keynote, and the code.

A groom may ask an exercise boy, of a mount:

"How's he doin'?"

"He's a morning glory," may be the reply, meaning the horse is sharp in morning workouts but fades in the afternoon.

That brings up another often-heard track expression — the loser's alibi. Here are a few choice examples:

"The boy couldn't rate him."
"The boy moved too soon."

"He was waiting to move with the favorite, and then it was too late."

"There wasn't enough speed in the race."

"There was too much speed in the race."

"They were in the paddock so long he got nervous."

Peters Works On Curve Ball At Sarasota

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Gary Peters of the Chicago White Sox, American League Rookie of the Year in 1963, is a pitcher with too big of a curve ball.

"That's his only weakness," said Sox pitching coach Ray Berres. "We've been working on cutting it down this winter. Gary has been working with our Sarasota team of the Florida Instructional League."

Southpaw Peters will be shooting for 20 victories this year after a rookie mark of 19-8. He had a 2.33 earned run average, struck out 189 and walked 68.

"That big curve is his only problem," Berres said. "It leaves the ball hanging there to be hit out of the park. Or it comes in sometimes and hits a batter's feet. We're cutting it down, so when he does throw a curve it will get over the plate. His slider still explodes up there. But his curve is so big a batter can anticipate it."

Peters thinks he can take some of the bigness out of his curve.

"I want it to break about one foot," he said. "It has been breaking two feet. But I won't know if I have it licked until I start throwing hard."

Peters won 11 games in a row in one stretch in compiling his 19 triumphs last year. But he slumped from Labor Day on, and failed in four attempts to nail No. 20.

"My arm just got tired, and I didn't have any snap in my delivery," he said. "We had a lot of injuries to our starting pitchers late in the year and I worked several times with only two or three days rest. So did Juan Pizarro and he came up with a sore arm. Mine didn't get sore, but there wasn't much life left in it."

"After working on my curve and pick-off move to first base, I'm satisfied that I'll be a better pitcher. Barring injury I should have a better year this time. Remember, I wasn't even a starting pitcher for the first month in 1963."

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Some people still don't know where the Country Store is located. We are just one mile out of Columbiana on the Lisbon Road. This is State Route 164.

We are open 19 hours each day, from six o'clock in the morning till one o'clock the next morning. Sundays we open at noon for visitors and emergencies. Christmas Day is the only day the Country Store is not open.

We are looking forward to 1964 as an even bigger year for us than last year. Any business you could send our way would be appreciated very much.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Allergic To One's Self

Can you imagine being allergic to, of all things, yourself? Amazing as it sounds, this is one explanation for the cause of collagen disease.

Dr. Brandstadt

Actually, this is just a fairly new term for a group of illnesses that have been with us for a long time. Collagen disease chiefly involves connective tissue, skin, muscle tendons, bones, cartilage and small blood vessels. All of these tissues are rich in collagen, a gelatinous protein. These diseases include lupus erythematosus, rheumatic fever, periarteritis nodosa, rheumatoid arthritis, erythema nodosum and purpura.

It is now thought that all are caused by a sensitivity similar to an allergy that develops against the victim's own cells, the so-called auto-immune reaction. In all of these diseases, there may be prolonged bouts of fever and varying degrees of painful involvement of the joints.

Since the diseases listed make up a formidable array, I am not surprised that some readers are concerned about preventive measures. There is not much that can be done in the way of true prevention because heredity is believed to play a large part in the cause.

OFTEN, HOWEVER, there are periods of remission in which the victim may be free of his disease, sometimes for several years at a time.

Much can be done to bring about such remissions. Rest and salicylates are often all that is needed, but most victims sooner or later require prolonged treatment with ACTH, cortisone or some other corticosteroid. Because of the danger of undesirable side effects from such treatment, close supervision by a physician is essential. This is another example of a group of diseases that cannot be cured, but can be controlled with skillful treatment.

Q—My doctor says I have cutaneous periarteritis nodosa. Will this disease abate after running its course? If so, how long does it take? What is the usual treatment for it?

A—Periarteritis nodosa (also called polyarteritis nodosa) is one of the collagen diseases. It may affect the smaller arteries anywhere in the body.

Symptoms vary widely depending on the part of the body involved. It is more common in men than in women and is often seen in persons who have hives, asthma or some other allergic disease.

When, as in your case, it involves the skin, nodules the size of a pea or smaller may occur singly or in groups. They disappear after a short time, but new ones keep forming. Some victims have no nodules but, instead, a series of red or purple spots which may or may not itch.

The disease may run a course of several months or several years. Treatment is often unsatisfactory. Aside from cortisone or a related drug, there is no known remedy.

ARRESTED BY FBI

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An 18-year-old Otterbein College student from Pittsburgh has been arrested by the FBI and jailed here on a warrant charging violation of federal extortion laws.

Howard S. Lewinter, a freshman, was charged with sending a female student at the college a letter containing obscene language and threats of bodily harm. Lewinter was placed in Franklin County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

HELD FOR ATTACKS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 12-year-old boy has been arrested by Dayton police in connection with recent attacks on six young women.

Authorities said that they had been looking for a man in his 20s but that the youngster "definitely" is the person for whom they have been searching.

A CHANGE IN NAME—Sign painter J. P. Bohan inspects the newly-made John F. Kennedy International Airport markers prior to their installation. The name of the New York International Airport at Idlewild was changed in honor of the late President.

One Long Party

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fill up the punch bowl again and let the welkin ring!

If you thought the season of celebration ended when you threw away your Christmas tree, you got the message all wrong.

The year 1964 promises to be just on big long party. There are a record 1,183 special occasions to observe, according to the social gazette in such matters—Chase Calendar of Annual Events, published by the Apple Tree Press of Flint, Mich.

Its editors have figured, as a matter of fact, that if you actually observed consecutively all the festivals and birthdays coming up in 1964, it would take you 29 years, 10 months, a week and 6 days to get the job done.

What's on the program? Well, something for every taste. Naturally, you'll want to pitch right in with a toast for good old break-a-cold and no-smoking month. Also in January: the birthdays of Millard Fillmore, Robert E. Lee, Robert Burns, William McKinley and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

We're also in Save the Pun Week right now, and you may want to send a get-well card to Elvis Presley on the 17th, when Guitar Week begins. And who would want to overlook National Fur Care Week and National Kraut and Frankfurter Week? February's 29 days—remember, it's leap year—are crisscrossed with a wide range of possibilities. There is the Ice Worm Festival up in Alaska, for example. This is also National Picnic Indoors Month, National Cherry Month and Frozen Potato Month.

There is no rest for the weary in March. Then you must honor National Weights and Measures Week, Return the Borrowed Book Week, National Peanut Week, National Smile Week, National Wildlife Week, and Aluminum Window Week.

April starts right off with National Laugh Week. It also marks National Hobby Month, National Automobile Month and the opening—on the 22nd—of the New York World's Fair.

Should you be in Sweden on April 30, you can join in the larking there for Walpurgis night, the Viking celebration of spring.

Don't slump on the first of May, please, or you'll ruin Correct Posture Week. Three cheers also for National Tavern Month, National Hamburger Month and Sol Stewardship Week.

In June there is everything from Fight the Filthy Fly Month to Old Maid's Day and National Odor Control Month.

Satan's Square Dance is to be held June 27 in Hell, Mich.

The second half of the year is just as packed with pleasure-stirring events—enough to make the mind reel with joy.

Francis Scott Key, a lawyer, happened to write the U.S. national anthem because he was visiting the British fleet in the Chesapeake trying to arrange for the release of a friend, thus coming to witness the shelling of Fort Mchenry, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

WHITE ENRICHED BREAD

Nickles new All-A-Round white bread is fun to serve. Its new round shape opens up a whole world of new ways to tempt lazy appetites.

And its flavor? All the tantalizing aroma of fresh bread baking in the oven is locked inside. The golden crust is so thin and pancake tender, it's almost as soft as the lacy-light, snow-white texture.

Try a loaf of Nickles All-A-Round white bread—just for the fun of it. You'll make it your family bread—for the flavor of it.

BAKED BY

Nickles

ONE OF AMERICA'S FINEST BAKERIES

Nickles All-A-Round white bread is baked in covered round pans—sealed tight. All the full, rich flavor of fine flours, selected shortening, plenty of milk protein, yeast and sugar are locked inside the texture of the bread—not lost in the oven.
